

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN LITERACY EDUCATION: ALL GRADES

— Online Program Format —

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The M.S. in Literacy Education program at St. John Fisher University prepares you for today's classroom and communities, and is designed for general and special education teachers.

As a graduate of our program, you will have the tools to make a tangible difference in the lives of your students. Your expertise in literacy instruction will contribute to improved reading and writing skills, boosting academic achievement. Our expert faculty bring years of experience to the classroom and they are passionate educators and literacy experts who are dedicated to nurturing your growth as a literacy specialist.

ACCREDITATION

The Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. School of Education is accredited based on the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) Standards through 2026.

Formerly the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), CAEP is the sole nationally recognized accrediting body for educator preparation, and is recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Fully online program with flexibility to accommodate your busy schedule;
- Small class sizes that foster a close-knit community where you thrive both academically and professionally;
- Ability to achieve program completion in just 12 months;
- Prepares you to be a culturally responsive literacy professional who works directly with students who experience difficulty in reading or writing, and provides support in literacy to classroom teachers and families;
- Relationships with expert faculty with years of experience who are passionate educators and literacy experts dedicated to nurturing your growth as a literacy specialist;
- Leads to professional certification as a literacy specialist for all grades; as a program graduate, you will also be eligible for the professional certification in your original initial teaching certification area.
